Angelini Pharma: Standardizing and Automating Accounts Payable Across 19 Countries

Angelini Pharma has been positively impacting patients' lives since 1919. As a leading pharmaceutical company, it is dedicated to developing innovative treatments for CNS and mental health disorders while maintaining a strong presence in the consumer health segment. The company is part of Angelini Industries and emphasizes improving health outcomes through strategic collaborations and research innovation.

A fragmented and inefficient AP process

With operations in multiple countries, Angelini Pharma faced a decentralized Accounts Payable (AP) process. A lack of standardization led to inefficiencies, compliance risks, and difficulties in financial reporting. Key challenges included:

✓ Missing invoice images in SAP
✓ No structured approval workflow for FI invoices
✓ No tracking system for handling invoice issues such as missing POs, goods receipts, or price discrepancies

Angelini Pharma sought a scalable and future-ready solution that aligned with its mission of operational excellence and innovation.

Implementing a global AP framework

By implementing a unified global AP automation framework, Angelini Pharma successfully transformed its invoice processing operations across 19 countries. Powered by Tungsten Automation's Process Director and the Routty e-invoicing platform, the framework enabled seamless processing of invoices in any format, from any channel, through a single centralized system. This comprehensive framework ensures end-to-end visibility, accuracy, and compliance across its international operations.

Overcoming challenges with teamwork

Rolling out a global AP solution required change management to align all entities with the new standardized process. Dynatos provided extensive support, ensuring the system was adaptable to local requirements while maintaining consistency.

The biggest challenge was getting teams to embrace the new AP best practices. Angelini Pharma succesfully onboarded their teams to the new way of working by demonstrating the efficiency gains and compliance benefits. Country-specific e-invoicing requirements, such as those in Italy, Romania and Germany, were part of the rollout plan from the start. With Dynatos' support, Angelini now works fully compliant in every country where e-invoicing mandates apply—and is prepared for future regulatory changes.

Local compliance was integrated into the global solution, making it easier for Angelini to standardize their AP process without losing sight of local needs.
